Christmas at the Center

Basic needs top the list for children at the Center this year (clothing, shoes, school supplies, snow boots, bedding, special needs, etc.). One or two educational gifts round out the giving. Parents will be assured to have more of their children's most basic everyday needs met first and as well as gifts to nourish the mind and soul.

Director Sharon Pomaville said, "We have generous donors who really want to help, so we asked parents what is the best way to help. If a child of a client family needs new sheets or new boots, I know our donors would want that information so they could fill that need."

Please call the center or email director@thesharingcenter.net to adopt a child for Christmas.
